

AKASH-NG Missile

- Recently India has successfully tested the new generation 'AKASH' missile.
- It tested the missile from the Integrated Test Range (ITR) in Chandipur, Odisha.
- AKASH-NG is essentially a surface-to-air missile.
- It is capable of destroying aerial threats coming at extremely high speed.
- Its range is about 80 km.
- It is equipped with Active Electronically Scanned Array (AESA) multi-function radar.
- Therefore it is capable of performing three tasks like search, track and fire control.
- The Akash weapon system is a short-range surface-to-air missile (SRSAM) air defense system.
- It has been indigenously designed and developed by DRDO.
