Policy of Appeasement :-

Appeasement :- To accept the ill demands in order to avoid conflict or to pacify another country.

Done by :- British P.M. Chamberlain in 1938-39.

Britain & France adopted this policy against Germany & Italy, when they were not following the conditions of Treaty of Versailles & started armaments

They allowed it, so as to counter the growing communism in Russia, of which the Axis powers were also opponents.

They thought Germany will fight Russia,
so they allowed Germany to build Army & to capture the neighbouring countries territories, to avoid any Conflict.

But this policy proved futile

Courses of the Glorious Revolution.

The revolution took place in 1688, but got its name as "glorious revolution" in 1689 by John Hampden.

The major causes of it can be summed up as;

1) James II :- King James II of Stuart family & was the first & foremost reason behind the war → his pro-Catholic policies and anti-Anglican & anti-Protestant policies were the seeds of the revolution.

2) Abolition of "The test" act :-

→ This act saved the Catholics from holding constitutional posts.

→ James II withdrew it in favour of Catholics.

3) Maintenance of huge army:-

→ In order to be ready to suppress any revolt, he maintained a large army.

4) Ecclesiastical Commission:-

James II was harsh on his enemies. So, in order to punish them, he formulated this ecclesiastical commission.

5) Relations with France:-

→ James II has close relⁿ with King Louis XIV of France, who was a catholic.

→ He got help and funds from France so as to establish a catholic empire in Britain.

→ This relation was opposed by the ^{British} French population, which was majorly protestant.
